

Contents

PREFACE	vii
INTRODUCTION	1
The Western Religions—Judaism, Christianity, and Islam	2
The Eastern Religions—Hinduism, Buddhism, and the Chinese Traditions	4
1. JUDAISM	11
Eliezer Segal
The First Commonwealth (until ca. 539 B.C.E.)	13
Babylonian Exile and Second Commonwealth (539 B.C.E. to 70 C.E.)	16
Talmudic Perspectives (70 to ca. 700 C.E.)	20
Medieval Judaism (ca. 700 to ca. 1750 C.E.)	23
Modern Judaism (from ca. 1750)	26
2. CHRISTIANITY	31
Terence Penelhum
Christian Origins	31
The Core Christian Claims about the Afterlife	37
Philosophical Difficulties in the Christian View	44
3. ISLAM	48
Hanna Kassis
“Only He Remains”	48
“Here I AM Lord”: Preparation and Burial of the Dead	52

vi Contents

“Tasting the Nearer Chastisement”: Judgment in the Tomb	54
“When Shall Be the Day of Resurrections?”		55
“Unto the Path of Hell”	60
“Enter Thou My Paradise”	61
4. HINDUISM		66
Anantanand Rambachan
Central Features of Hinduism	68
Hindu Views of the Person	71
Hindu Views of Death and Afterlife	74
5. BUDDHISM		87
Eva K. Neumaier-Dargyay
Many Lives—Many Deaths: The Basic Assumptions	87
Dying and Being Reborn in the View of the Traditions	91
The Tibetan Lore of Dying and Rebirth	93
The Bar do thos grol	95
The “Liberation from the Intermediary State” and Reports of Near-Death Experiences	102
6. CHINESE RELIGIONS		105
Gary Arbuckle
Notes from the Nether World	105
Cosmological Contexts and the Theory of the Soul	106
Going to One’s Reward	109
Prison Breaks: Philosophy, Alchemy, Escape, Endurance	113
The Afterlife in “After-Times”	117
ABOUT THE AUTHORS		125
INDEX		129