

Contents

Preface ix

PART I

Theodao in Construction: An East Asian Theology of Dao

CHAPTER ONE

Owning Up to Our Own Metaphors: A Christian Journey in the Confucian Stronghold	3
1. A Journey in the Confucian Stronghold	3
2. Theology from the Korean Vantage Point	7
3. Owning Up to Our Own Metaphors: Toward a Theology of Dao (Theodao)	11

CHAPTER TWO

God as the Dao: Toward a Theology of Dao (Theodao)	14
1. A Call for a Macro-Paradigm Shift in Theology	14
2. The Ugümch'i Phenomenon	18
3. The Phenomenology of Sin-ki (Shén qì)	23
4. A Dao of Asian Theology in the Twenty-First Century	29

CHAPTER THREE

Christodao: Jesus Christ as the Dao	34
1. A Koan : Christological Impasse	34
2. Dao: A New Root-Metaphor for Jesus Christ	40
3. Korean Quests for Christodao: Jesus as the Theanthropocosmic Dao	43
4. Jesus Christ as the New T'aegŭk (Great Ultimate; 太極 [Tài jí])	48
5. The Coming of Yin Christ	51

CHAPTER FOUR

The Dao and the Trinity	57
1. The “Easternization” of the Trinity	57
2. Confucian and Daoist Insights	58
3. A Confucian/Daoist Interpretation of the Trinity	65
4. Review and Conclusion	70

PART II

Theodao in Bridge-building:
Christianity and East Asian Religions

CHAPTER FIVE

Chéng and Agapē: Wang Yang-ming Meets Karl Barth	77
1. Introduction to Confucian–Christian Dialogue	77
2. Chéng (Confucian Sincerity): A Confuciology of Wang Yang-ming	83
3. Agapē (Christian Love): A Theology of Karl Barth	94
4. Chéng and Agapē : Thick Resemblances within Radical Differences	102
5. Toward Christodao: A Confucian Christology	108

CHAPTER SIX

Imago Dei and Tiān mìng: John Calvin Meets Yi T’oegyē	115
1. Original Humanity: Imago Dei and Tiān mìng [T’ien-ming] (天命)	117
2. Existential Humanity: The Fallen Nature and the Human Mind	122
3. The Restoration of Original Humanity: Sanctification and Self-Cultivation	130
4. Ecological Vision of Reverence: Pietas Meets Kyōng	140

CHAPTER SEVEN

The Korean Face of Jesus Christ: Ryu Yōng-mo’s Christodao	147
Introduction	147
1. Jesus Is the Filial Son (孝子): A Confucian Christology	150

2. Jesus Is the Rice (Bap): A Sacramental Christology	153
3. Jesus Is the Flower (kkot-pi): An Aesthetic Christology	154
4. Jesus Is the Seed (Ssi): An Anthropological Christology	156
5. Jesus Is the Spirit (靈): A Pneumatological (Ki 氣) Christology	159
6. Jesus Is the Dao (道): A Cosmic Life Christology	160
7. Jesus Is the Being-in-Non-Being (無極而太極): An Apophatic Christology	163
Conclusion	165

CHAPTER EIGHT

Multiple Religious Belonging as Hospitality: A Korean Confucian-Christian Perspective	169
1. Multiple Religious Belonging as Hostility: The Korean Context	172
2. Multiple Religious Belonging as an Absurd Religious Tolerance (Epistemology)	174
3. Christological Foundations for Multiple Religious Belonging	178
4. Multiple Religious Belonging as Hospitality	179
5. Trinitarian Hospitality: The Ontological Foundation for Multiple Belonging	181
6. Further Thoughts: The Paradox of Multiple Belonging and None Belonging	183

PART III

Theodao in Action: An Ecological and Scientific Age

CHAPTER NINE

Dialogue: Christian Theologies, Asian Religions, and Natural Sciences	189
1. The Context: Asian Christianity	189
2. The Method: A Dialogue of Humility	195
3. The Content: Some Preliminary Suggestions	200

CHAPTER TEN

Eco-Dao: Life, Ecology, and Theodao	204
1. Theanthropocosmic Vision	207
2. The Dao Paradigm of Theology: Theodao	212
3. Pneumatociosmic Biography of the Exploited Life	217

CHAPTER ELEVEN

Bio-Dao: Human Embryonic Stem-Cell Debates	223
1. The Political Hermeneutics of Life: A Contemporary Koan	223
2. Is the Embryo Life?	226
3. What Is Human Dignity?	227
4. What Does Human Person Mean?	229
5. Respect for Life	231
6. Some Preliminary East Asian Christian Reflections	234

CHAPTER TWELVE

Techno-Dao: Transhumanism Debates (Cyborg, Sage, and Saint)	238
1. A Most Dangerous Idea for East Asia	238
2. A Naïve, Ultra-Right Ideology from the West	240
3. The Roots of Transhumanism: Christianity and the Enlightenment	244
4. Transhumanism from an East Asian Christian Perspective	248

Glossary	260
Terms in Chinese Romanization	260
Terms in Korean Romanization	263

Index	265
--------------	-----